THIRD LEG OF DEF LEPPARD'S NORTH AMERICAN TOUR CANCELED

Louisville, Ky. (Oct. 16, 2009) – Due to unforeseen personal matters, the highly anticipated third leg of Def Leppard's North American Tour, set to begin on October 22 in Reno, Nev. and run through Nov. 28 in Beaumont, Texas, has been canceled. Including Louisville, the third leg of the tour was to include 23 cities across the United States. Refunds for the Nov. 25 performance in Freedom Hall will be issued at the point of purchase.

“We know how truly blessed we are to have such committed fans,” the band said in a statement. “That’s why we’ve agonized over this decision. Even if just a single concert, we don’t take canceling shows lightly, but unfortunately life’s commitments need to be the priority.”

One of the top 10 largest public facilities of its kind in the United States, the Kentucky Exposition Center features 1.2 million square feet of indoor space including Freedom Hall, an indoor arena which seats over 19,000 people. The facility's class "A" exhibit space totals 425,700 square feet and accommodates an amazing spectrum of events year round. The expo center is the permanent home for the Kentucky State Fair, the National Farm Machinery Show, and the North American International Livestock Exposition. Conveniently located adjacent to the Louisville International Airport and near the junction of three major interstates, the Kentucky Exposition Center is easily accessible and just five minutes south of downtown Louisville.
